Subject: Lottoland jackpot betting services – update on investigation under the Interactive Gambling Act 2001 [SEC=UNCLASSIFIED]

Dear [REDACTED]

On 31 January 2019, the ACMA's Chair advised the Minister that we had commenced an investigation into the new 'jackpot betting' services offered by Lottoland Australia Pty Ltd under section 21 of the Interactive Gambling Act 2001.

The ACMA has now reached the preliminary view that:

- > The Lottoland jackpot betting services named Mon & Wed Jackpot, Tue Jackpot, Thu Jackpot, US Millions (previously US MegaMillions) and US Power are provided by Lottoland Australia Pty Ltd in contravention of subsection 15(2A) of the IGA, as these services are prohibited interactive gambling services with an Australian-customer link.
- > The Lottoland jackpot betting service named Daily Millions (previously Fri Jackpot) does not contravene the IGA.

Today, we have written to Mr Luke Brill, CEO and Director of Lottoland Australia Pty Ltd, outlining these preliminary findings and providing him with the opportunity to comment before we reach our final view. We have asked him to respond by Tuesday 9 April 2019.

We will keep you and the Department informed of the outcome of the investigation.
