Dear ██████████

RE: ACMA INVESTIGATION UNDER THE INTERACTIVE GAMBLING ACT 2001 (IGA)
INTO SERVICES OFFERED BY LOTTOLAND

Thank you for your letter dated 31 January 2019. It was considered by the Northern Territory Racing Commission (the Commission) at a meeting held on 12 February 2019.

A copy of the Sports Bookmakers Licence issued to Lottoland under the provisions of the Racing and Betting Act (NT) is attached as requested in your letter (Attachment A refers).

The full list of events that have been declared by the Commission to be approved sporting events for the purposes of section 4 of the Act is available on the Commission's website (also at Attachment B), but I can confirm for the purposes of your investigation that stock market indices have been declared.

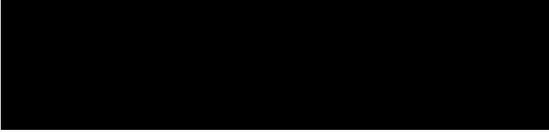

The Commission was not required to make any formal decisions or approvals in respect of the betting product described in your correspondence, however a due diligence exercise was performed on the system used by Lottoland to generate winning numbers based on the stock market indices. As a result, the Commission requested Lottoland to have the software independently certified by an Internationally recognised gaming equipment testing entity, and this has been done.

As to whether the products offered by Lottoland are in breach of the IGA, the Commission is of the view that that is a matter for AFMA.

Should Lottoland be found to be in breach of the IGA, then that would constitute a breach of Lottoland's licence condition that it comply with all applicable laws, and the Commission would consider any appropriate disciplinary action at that time. Lottoland has informed us of your investigation, as required by its licence.

I hope that this response has been of assistance.

Yours Sincerely

Chairperson
NT Racing Commission
