Executive summary

The Broadcasting Services Act 1992 (BSA) establishes the Australian content regulatory framework for commercial television broadcasting licensees (licensees) and includes Australian content quota requirements.

The BSA also recognises that there are differences between licensees operating in metropolitan and regional or remote licence areas. In practice, regional and remote licensees rely on metropolitan licensees for much of their content, which is provided through program affiliation agreements.

The number and type of multi-channels provided by regional and remote licensees can be determined by infrastructure capacity and/or by affiliation agreements.

In 2020, the BSA was amended to recognise that regional and remote licensees can find it difficult to satisfy the Australian content obligations. This is because they have limited or no control over the programming provided on the multi-channels they broadcast, particularly if they carry a reduced number of multi-channels for commercial or technical reasons.

Under the BSA, regional and remote licensees can be deemed compliant with multi-channel quota obligations if they provide the ACMA with a notice that meets relevant conditions set out in subsection 121H(1) of the BSA. The ACMA must publish a copy of the notice on the ACMA's website.

A similar deeming provision can apply under section 16 of the Broadcasting Services \(Australian Content and Children's Television\) Standards 2020 (ACCTS). The Explanatory Statement to the ACCTS indicates that the deeming provision was introduced to protect regional and remote licensees, which may have limited control over programming retransmitted under an affiliate agreement.

This paper consolidates the notices given to the ACMA under subsection 121H(1) of the BSA and section 16 of the ACCTS. The notices relate to regional and remote licensees that have met the relevant conditions for deemed compliance.

Deemed compliance

The Australian content transmission quotas in the BSA require licensees to transmit:

1. Australian programs¹ for at least 55% of all programming broadcast between 6 am and midnight on their primary television services; and
2. at least 1,460 hours of Australian programs between 6 am and midnight across their suite of non-primary television services (multi-channels).

The Australian content points requirement in the ACCTS provides that licensees must broadcast at least 250 points of first release Australian programs each calendar year. The programs must be from selected genres (Schedule 1 of the ACCTS) and may be broadcast across all primary and non-primary broadcast channels.

In order for regional and remote licensees to rely on deemed compliance provisions, the licensee must have broadcast:

- > for the multi-channel quota, no less than the total number of hours of Australian programs broadcast on the equivalent multi-channel by the metropolitan commercial television broadcasting licensee, during targeted viewing hours in the calendar year; and
- > for the ACCTS points requirement, no less than the amount of first release Australian programs broadcast by its metropolitan affiliate on the latter's equivalent channel/s, during the same year.

In 2021, the ACMA assessed 28 notices from regional and remote licensees as meeting the conditions for deemed compliance with the BSA multi-channel quota and or the ACCTS quota. A summary of these notices is set out in tables 1 and 2 below, with a copy of the notices provided in the Schedules to this document.²

² Schedules 1 to 10 have been prepared for the purpose of publication on the ACMA's website under subsection 121H(2) of the BSA.

Table 1: Deemed compliance under section 121H of the BSA, 2021

Section 121H of the BSA sets out the circumstances in which regional/remote licensees that operate under an affiliate agreement with a metropolitan licensee may be deemed compliant with its Australian content transmission quota obligations to broadcast 1,460 hours of Australian content on non-primary channels (multi-channels) in a calendar year.
