Dear [REDACTED],

I refer to your 4 March 2022 email and attached correspondence about the edition of Four Corners broadcast on 13 September 2021, 'Bearing Witness: Exposing the Secret World of the Jehovah's Witnesses', submitted on behalf of the Christian Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses (Australasia) Limited, Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of Australian and Jehovah's Witnesses Congregations.

Your correspondence was referred to Audience and Consumer Affairs, a unit which is separate to and independent of content making areas within the ABC. Our role is to review and, where appropriate, investigate complaints alleging that ABC content has breached the ABC's editorial standards. These standards are explained in the ABC Code of Practice which is available here - <http://about.abc.net.au/reports-publications/code-of-practice/>.

We have given your correspondence careful consideration, particularly regarding the significant delay in lodging the complaint. As you are aware, Audience and Consumer Affairs does not generally investigate complaints submitted more than six weeks after the broadcast or publication of the content in question.

Your correspondence provides the following reasons for the delay in lodging the complaint: as the complaint concerned each of the complainants, a number of persons were contacted to obtain relevant information; detail in the complaint took time to compile; the holiday season; and an ongoing police investigation into a fire at Raglan Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses. Audience and Consumer Affairs do not consider these reasons to provide satisfactory justification for the extended delay in lodging a complaint with the ABC. The complainants elected to jointly submit a complaint rather than separately and promptly lodging their concerns about the program. The program was broadcast some three months prior to the holiday season, and a further two months elapsed before the complaint was submitted. The existence of an ongoing police investigation into another matter does not impose any practical or legal reason for the delay in lodgement.

We have also considered the proportionality criteria set out in the ABC's Complaint Handling Procedures. Certainly, the complainants have proximity to the substance of the matter and the program deals at times with the serious issue of child abuse. However, there was no widespread critical audience response to the program. A preliminary assessment of the complaint does not suggest that the program presents a strong likelihood of harm or high potential to mislead, or a high degree of risk of damage to public trust and confidence in the ABC. The program drew on and explored the findings of the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse. The issues raised in the complaint regarding compliance with accuracy standards overwhelmingly relate to opinions or perspectives presented in the program; the ABC accuracy standards are not applicable to such statements. The substance of the complaint centres on the range of perspectives presented in the program, which the complaint describes as consisting 'entirely of interviews with persons who are either proactive antagonists of the religion' or 'persons with hatred, malice, or prejudice toward the religion'. We observe that the program featured interviews with a range of people with relevant experience with the Jehovah's Witnesses who were well placed to speak to the issues raised. It is apparent that the program's request for an interview with a representative of Jehovah's Witnesses Australasia was declined, and that written responses provided by Jehovah's Witnesses Australasia were included in the program where relevant and published at length on the program website.

On consideration of these matters, Audience and Consumer Affairs decline to accept the complaint for investigation.

Yours sincerely,

[REDACTED]

Jepang menghimbau warganya yang berada di Indonesia, Filipina, Singapura, Malaysia, Thailand dan Myanmar untuk tetap waspada setelah Jepang mendapatkan informasi potensi serangan terorisme di Asia Tenggara.

AP Japan warns citizens of possible attack in Southeast Asia

TOYOYO (AP) — Japan's Foreign Ministry urged its citizens on Monday to stay away from religious facilities and events in the Southeast Asian nations, warning of a possible attack.

The ministry said it had obtained information that "there are increased risks with possible bombings."

RELATED TOPICS

The warning applies to Japanese citizens in Indonesia, the Philippines, Singapore, Malaysia, Thailand and Myanmar.

The ministry was not with participants in several of those nations, which said they had no knowledge of such a threat, or directly from Japan as to the source of the information.

Thawee Sangsri, spokesman for Thailand's Foreign Ministry, said Japan had not revealed the source of the warning and that the Japanese embassy had not further alerted citizens there to stay away from religious facilities.
