Have your say: Allocating the 3.4 to 4.0 GHz band

Dear ACMA

Thank you for the opportunity to provide feedback on the consultations regarding allocating the 3.4 to 4.0 GHz band.

The Civil Aviation Safety Authority (CASA) supports the detailed feedback that has already been provided to the Australian Communications and Media Authority (ACMA) in various papers submitted as part of the ACMA Technical Liaison Group process. This is the agreed position of various Australian aviation stakeholders.

CASA understands ACMA will protect aviation from interference from other transmissions in accordance with the Radiocommunications Act 1992, paragraphs 192 and 193.

If you would like to discuss CASA's feedback in further detail, please contact Mr David Cook, Aviation Safety Inspector CNS/ATM, by telephone (07) 3144 7315 or via email david.cook@casa.gov.au

I trust this information is of assistance.
