

Some recent content from Kyle and Jackie O on KIIS FM (since September):

- Jokes about gay people being “predators”, referring to them at various points as “homos”, “mos”, “the gays”, and at one point “batty boys”. Sandilands says he “did not like being schooled by gays.”
- Repeated jokes about a producer’s Asian housemates, including Sandilands asking “What are they? Cantoneans? Kampuchians?”, the duo jokes about the Asian housemates importing heroin, being in jail, and being violent, and a caller phoning in and putting on a fake Asian accent saying “I come for you”. Another text from a listener pretending to be from the housemate is read out as “I suck Peter’s dick last night”.
- Jokes about dating men who are not white, with Sandilands saying to Henderson that her daughter is “like mother, like daughter, white only”, and asking about whether her daughter has dated “darkfellas”. In relation to Tony Armstrong at ABC, Sandilands said they “arseholed the Aboriginal guy”.
- Derisive language about women and sex, including Sandilands telling Henderson a man should be prepared to “smash you anally” regardless of her politics. He also calls Henderson an “annoying bitch” and a “hoe”. Last month the station aired comments from a caller who said his favourite sexual position was a “butcher’s wheelbarrow” – holding a woman’s arms from behind like a wheelbarrow, “and then you go to town and just butcher the pussy”.
- Jokes about overweight women and mental health, talking about “bigger girls” needing help, “porkers”, “fat mentals” in regard to the lead character in the Netflix show “Baby Reindeer” and talks about “all the other mentals” in a psychiatric hospital.
- They had a competition where they got female staff to record themselves urinating and then the “boys have to figure out whose flaps made that wee”.
